

Short Curriculum Vitae
Professor Giovanni Paolo Galdi

Giovanni P. Galdi, William Kepler Whiteford Professor of Mechanical Engineering and Materials Sciences and Professor of Mathematics at the University of Pittsburgh, received his University degree (Laurea) in Physics from the University of Naples, Italy, in 1971. He joined the faculty at the University of Pittsburgh in the Fall semester 1999. Prior to that, in the years 1980-1985 he was Professor at the Department of Mathematics of the University of Naples (Italy) and, from 1985 until 1998, he was Professor at the Institute of Engineering of the University of Ferrara (Italy). Dr. Galdi founded and organized the School of Engineering of the University of Ferrara in 1989, where he was the Dean from 1989 until 1995. He has been Visiting Professor in several academic institutions, including the University of Glasgow (Scotland), University of Minnesota (USA), University of Paderborn (Germany), University of Pretoria (South Africa), Central College, Bangalore (India), Fudan University, Shanghai (China), University of Waseda, Tokyo (Japan), Czech Academy of Science (Czech Republic), Steklov Institute of Mathematics, the St Petersburg Branch (Russia), University of Paris-Sud XI, Orsay (France), Instituto Superior Tecnico, Lisbon (Portugal), Second University of Naples, Caserta (Italy), and University of Pisa (Italy). He is a member of the Editorial Board of several scientific Journals, including European Journal of Mechanics B/Fluids. He is also co-founder of the Journal of Mathematical Fluid Mechanics, and of the Series Advances in Mathematical Fluid Mechanics, published by Birkhäuser-Verlag, Basel, Boston. Dr. Galdi has (co) authored over 110 original research papers and 6 books, and (co) edited 13 books, mostly dedicated to fluid mechanics.
